LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

As an assistant professor of Computer Science Engineering department in Sri Sairam engineering college I am very glad to recommend Mr. Joshua Prakash, one among the best talent whom I came across in my teaching career.

During his Bachelor's degree, I had the opportunity to handle him almost all the major core subjects such as Artificial Intelligence and Human Computer Interaction. He attracted me towards him by his unique way of approaching the subject. Apart from being a hard worker and proving to be a consistent performer by securing better grades in the subjects his trust in practical application of the knowledge gained in theoretical subjects is evident from his performance in the laboratory.

His remarkable performance in the laboratories such as Mobile Application Development and Security and the interest he showed in performing experiments and coming out with new doubts are the factors which proves clearly that he is one among few students who deserves special attention and could come out with innovative ideas when guided in a proper way.

During his studies he had undergone many in-plant trainings and industrial visits. He often took part actively and enthusiastically in the seminars and presentations which makes the fact obvious that he had excelled the subject and is eager to share his knowledge with his classmates

As an assistant professor who handled many of his major subjects, I am very well able to realize how much he adores his subject and I personally recommend this student for the course in your esteemed university which will be a great opportunity given to him to bring out all his talents and innovative thoughts to the world. I am very much confident that he will make use of the opportunity provided to him with utmost sincerity and devotedness while prospering well in his career and wish him all the best in his endeavors.
